Dear conference participant,

Welcome to Liege and to the 4th EMES International Research Conference on Social Enterprise. We feel honored to host an event that gathers a community of researchers that continues to grow and thrive. When the first EMES conference was organized twelve years ago, “social enterprise” was an unknown concept and we were very excited to contribute to the emergence of such a promising research area. As scholars, we felt not only a sense of urgency for understanding this phenomenon emerging across countries and cultures but also a deep interest in the research avenues that it opened.

The sense of urgency we felt at the beginning has been deepened by the crisis and the need to understand how social enterprises may contribute to an institutional pluralism across economic and social systems to the strengthening of a vibrant civil society across countries. The good news is that the attention received by social enterprise as a field for collaborative and comparative research has boomed. Where there were barely a handful of researchers twenty years ago, this week there are over 300 researchers from over 40 countries in Liege to share their ongoing and recently completed research with colleagues from all over the world. As a community of researchers, we can all feel proud to be a part of the largest research conference on social enterprise to date.

This conference represents a turning point for EMES. Following an increasing number of requests, the EMES Network has just decided to open its membership to non-European researchers and this is the first time that new members from all over the world gather. We give a special heartfelt thank you to all of them for their enthusiasm and willingness to contribute to the building of a stronger international community of social enterprise researchers. It is also a festive occasion for our host, the Centre for Social Economy (CES) as it celebrates its 20th anniversary. During that special year, the CES received the highest scientific recognition from the Belgian Science Policy Office: the selection of social enterprise as one of the very few topics in social sciences deserving the setting-up of an “interuniversity attraction pole” (IAP) the IAP programme on social enterprise (SOCENT) gathers more than 50 researchers from four Belgian universities (ULg, UCL, ULB, VUB) over five years (2012-2017) and the coordination of such scientific excellence pole by the CES.

On such a strong basis, the CES is hosting the 4th EMES conference in Liege, a 1000-year old city known for the warmth of its citizens and its privileged situation at the heart of Europe. During the next four days, we will have a chance to learn, exchange, and enjoy some unique moments. It is our hope that we meet your expectations and that lasting fruitful connections be established in the context of this EMES conference.

About the organizers

The EMES network
Since 1996, the EMES network has conducted over 13 international comparative research projects and organized international bi-annual conferences and PhD summer schools (the next one will take place in July 2014). In addition it collaborates with international organizations and governments at all levels to advance the understanding of social enterprise and support evidence-based policy-making in this field around the world.

EMES has existed since 1996, when an international group of scholars formed a research network that was sponsored by the European Union. Having reached an unusual level of mutual understanding, trust and a common perspective of working together, a community of researchers sprang off from this working experience. Formally established as a non-profit association (ASBL under Belgian law) in 2002 and named after its first research programme, on “the emergence of social enterprises in Europe” (1996-2000), EMES was originally composed of European university research centres and individual researchers. In 2013 EMES opened its membership to researchers and PhD students from around the world. The goals of EMES are:

- to build an international corpus of theoretical and empirical knowledge around “SE” concepts (social enterprise, social entrepreneurship, social economy, solidarity economy), as well as social innovation and the third sector;
- to position itself globally and increase the cooperation with centres of excellence on all continents.

EMES publishes regularly the results of its research projects in various formats, including the EMES Working Papers series. Recently, and in collaboration with the EMES PhD Students’ Network, EMES launched the EMES Junior Experts’ Blog (EJEB) as a way to encourage PhD students to publish texts about their dissertation in connection with current issues in society.

The IAP-SOCENT programme
Funding “Interuniversity Attraction Poles” (IAP) has been the major type of support provided by the Belgian Science Policy Office (BELSPO) for the last 25 years. Proposals for IAP are submitted every five years by networks formed by several research teams from various Belgian universities across all disciplines; they aim to foster interuniversity and interdisciplinary collaboration at both national and international levels. In 2012, an Interuniversity Attraction Pole proposal entitled “If Not for Profit, for What? And How?” was submitted by four Belgian universities and selected to be funded from October 2012 through September 2017.

Around 45 faculty members and researchers in economics, management, sociology and psychology from Belgian universities and around 10 international research partners are involved in this IAP from the outset. They focus on one overall objective, which is defined by the subtitle of the research programme, i.e. “Building interdisciplinary and integrated knowledge on social entrepreneurship and social enterprise” (the acronym of the programme, namely “SOCENT”, is derived from this subtitle).

The whole IAP-SOCENT research programme is structured around 6 main Thematic Lines (TL): (1) Social innovation and social opportunities; (2) Financing social enterprise; (3) Employment and human resource management; (4) Governance in social enterprises; (5) Social enterprise models and institutionalization processes; (6) Integration of findings and theoretical contributions.

The ICSEM project
A major research project, the International Comparative Social Enterprise Models (ICSEM) Project, will be carried out within Thematic Line 5 in close partnership with the EMES network.

Participants who have expressed their interest in the ICSEM Project (2013-2017) are invited to the Project’s Kick-off Meeting, which will take place at HEC building, in the city centre (rue Louvrex, 14), on Friday, July 5th, from 9 am to 1 pm.

The Centre for Social Economy

The Centre for Social Economy (Centre d’Economie Sociale, or CES) is a research and teaching centre within HEC-Management School of the University of Liege. Founded in the early 1990s by Prof. Jacques Defourny, the Centre for Social Economy pursues three major goals:

- To develop research in the areas of social enterprise/entrepreneurship and the social economy, mainly from the perspectives of economics, management and organization theory, sociology and law;
- To support, through its work, teaching in the area of social entrepreneurship and the social economy at the University of Liege and elsewhere, for Bachelor, Master and Doctoral students, as well as for practitioners in the area;
- To offer the community and private and public decision-makers services based on its expertise.

Research

Within HEC-Management School of the University of Liege, the Centre for Social Economy coordinates the “Social Enterprise and the Social Economy” peak of excellence. Research projects cover a wide range of conceptual (definitions), statistical (measurement) and focused empirical work, testing and building theory around social enterprise and the social economy. Using quantitative and/or qualitative methodologies, research questions are explored at the global level as well as in particular subfields of social enterprise such as culture, environment and energy, health, education, work integration, fair trade, etc. The research projects are led by 3 Professors, 10 PhD students and 2 post-doc researchers from Belgium and abroad. From 2012 to 2017, the CES coordinates a major “Interuniversity Attraction Pole” (IAP) research programme on social enterprise funded by the Belgian Science Policy and titled “If Not for Profit, For What? And How?”.

Teaching

Besides research, the Centre for Social Economy organizes two teaching programmes. At the Master’s level, since 2010, the “Management of Social Enterprises” orientation trains some fifteen students per year during the two years of the Master in Management Sciences. At the practitioners’ level, an executive education programme was started in 2012 for managers and entrepreneurs in the field.

Three Chairs within the CES contribute to teaching and research in management and entrepreneurship related to social enterprise and the social economy, namely the “Cera Chair in Social Entrepreneurship” (Pr. Sybille Mertens), the “SRIW-Sowecsom Chair in Social Enterprise Management” (Pr. Benjamin Huybrechts) and the newly born “Baillet-Latour Chair in Social Investment and Philanthropy”.

Hosting EMES

The CES is a co-founder of the EMES network, and since 1996, it has hosted the Coordination Unit of the Network, which has been registered as a non-profit organization (ASBL) under Belgian law since 2002. Prof. Jacques Defourny was the chair of EMES until 2010.

About the EMES International Research Conferences

Created in 1996, the EMES network has developed into a leading research network focused on the study of social enterprises and third sector organisations. On the basis of its first large European research project, carried out over a five-year period, the Network organised the 1st EMES International Research Conference, titled “The Social Enterprise. A comparative perspective”, at the University of Trento in 2001. This event and the first EMES book, The Emergence of Social Enterprise (Routledge, 2001), launched the topic of "social enterprise" as a research theme on the European scene. They also succeeded in promoting a more widespread knowledge of the concept of social enterprise, both in Europe and beyond, and pinpointed new research themes that have been thoroughly investigated in recent years.

The 2nd EMES International Research Conference on Social Enterprise was held in Trento in July 2009. More than 150 researchers from 36 countries from all over the world gathered to discuss management issues, theoretical and empirical analyses, innovation, conceptual aspects, legal frameworks, public policies, institutional framework and other important aspects of social enterprise.

The 3rd EMES International Research Conference on Social Enterprise was hosted by the Centre for Social Entrepreneurship (Roskilde University) in July 2012 and gathered about 200 researchers from around the world. The theme of this event was “Social innovation through social entrepreneurship in civil society”, a topic that has proven its relevance in the research field internationally.

The EMES network, in partnership with the Belgian Interuniversity Attraction Pole on Social Enterprise (IAP-SOCENT), and with the Centre for Social Economy at HEC-Management School of the University of Liege as host, now organizes the 4th EMES International Research Conference on Social Enterprise. Over 320 researchers from over 40 countries will spend four intensive days discussing various topics under the umbrella of the conference title, If not for profit, for what? And how?

An expert advisor of the Ministry of Civil Affairs, People Republic of China (PRC), he is also a consultant for more than 30 government departments, NGOs and hospitals in Canada, Mainland China, Hong Kong and Macau. His research interests include the third sector and civil society, social enterprises, evaluation and outcome measurement in nonprofit organizations.

Sergi Corbalán is Executive Director of the Fair Trade Advocacy Office and is responsible for the Fair Trade movement political advocacy work before the European Union. He has over 10 years experience on EU and Global affairs, having worked for a variety of civil society and industry actors, on policy and legal topics linked to consumer protection, trade and sustainable development.
Jacques Defourny is Professor of nonprofit economics and social enterprise at HEC-Management School of the University of Liege (Belgium) where he is also director of the Centre for Social Economy, which he founded 20 years ago. Since 1996 he has been acting as the founding coordinator and then the first president of the EMES Network (2002-2010). His work focuses on the emergence of social enterprise in various parts of the world and on conceptual and quantitative analysis of the third sector in developed as well as developing countries. In addition to numerous articles in academic journals, he has authored or (co-)edited twelve books.

Helen Haugh is University Senior Lecturer in community enterprise, Judge Business School, University of Cambridge. In 2008 she established the Tata International Social Entrepreneurship Scheme, which offers final year undergraduate or postgraduate students at the University of Cambridge the opportunity to work on social entrepreneurship and corporate social responsibility projects within the Tata Group of Companies in India. Her current research interests include: organisational theory and institutional theory, social and community entrepreneurship, corporate engagement with social issues and business ethics as well as qualitative research methods, particularly ethnography.

Isabelle Hillenkamp is Research Associate at the Institute of Socio-Economics (Department of Sociology), University of Geneva, attached to the Swiss National Centre of Competence in Research – LIVES. Her research focuses on the informal and popular economy, with particular interest in community and solidarity projects in Latin America. Before joining the University of Geneva, she was a postdoctoral researcher at the University San Andres of La Paz (Bolivia).

Lars Hulgård is Professor of social entrepreneurship at Roskilde University (RUC, Denmark), where he serves four main functions: President of the EMES European Research Network, Chair of the research group Social Innovation and Organizational Learning, Chair of RUCInnovation – RUC’s platform for innovative collaboration – as well as research, teaching and consultancy in social innovation, social work, social entrepreneurship, co-production in social service and capacity building. He founded the Centre for Social Entrepreneurship in 2006. He was recently appointed member of the Danish Government Committee on social enterprise.

Jean-Louis Laville is Professor at the Conservatoire national des arts et métiers (CNAM, Paris), head of the Chair of Service Relations and co-director of the “Laboratoire interdisciplinaire pour la sociologie économique” (LISE), CNAM-CNRS. A founding member of the EMES European Research Network, he is also a member of several expert societies and serves on the editorial board of various academic journals. He has published numerous books, he is directing two book series for French publishers (DDB, Erès) and he is also director of series in Brazil and Italy. In the “Association internationale des Sociologues de Langue Française” (AISLF), he is co-responsible for the Research Committee on “Economic sociology”.

Johanna Mair is a Professor of organization, management and leadership at the Hertie School of Governance, Berlin. She is the Hewlett Foundation Visiting Scholar at the Stanford Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society and the Academic Editor of the Stanford Social Innovation Review. Her research focuses on how novel organizational and institutional arrangements generate economic and social development and the role of innovation in this process. She is the co-editor of three books and has published in leading academic journals. Today, alongside her academic responsibilities, she serves as the vice-chair of Global Agenda Council on Social Innovation of the World Economic Forum.
Marthe Nyssens is Professor at the Department of Economics of the Catholic University of Louvain (Belgium) where she is the president of the research center “Centre Interdisciplinaire de Recherches Travail, Etat, Société” (CIRTES). A founding member of the EMES Network, she works on conceptual approaches to the third sector (both in developed and developing countries), on the links between third sector organisations and public policies and on the emergence of different social enterprise models in an international comparative perspective. She has published numerous articles and several books, especially on social enterprises in the field of care and work integration.

Mads Øvlisen is Professor of corporate social responsibility at the Copenhagen Business School, Denmark. He chairs the Danish Government Committee on social enterprise as well as the United Nations Global Compact Advisory Group on supply chain sustainability. Mads Øvlisen was until 2000 President and CEO of Novo Nordisk, Denmark, and served as its chair until 2006. His board positions included the chairmanship of LEGO, The Royal Danish Theatre, the Danish Arts Council, and the Danish Council on Corporate Social Responsibility.

Dennis R. Young is the Bernard B. and Eugenia A. Ramsey Professor of Private Enterprise in the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies at Georgia State University, where he directs the school’s nonprofit studies program. His interests focus on the management and economics of nonprofit organizations. He is the founding editor of Nonprofit Management and Leadership and the new electronic journal Nonprofit Policy Forum, and past president of the Association for Research on Nonprofit Organizations and Voluntary Action (ARNOVA). He is the author of many scholarly articles, and author or editor of several books on nonprofit organizations. In 2010 he received an honorary doctorate from the University of Liege in Belgium.

Marília Veronese is a social psychologist, professor and researcher at University of Vale of Rio dos Sinos (UNISINOS), Brazil, where she is member of a research team on solidarity-based economy, which belongs to the Social Sciences Postgraduate Program. Her work focuses on solidarity based-economy, subjectivity and labor, social psychology, cooperation and self-management, co-operatives, and the concept of ‘epistemology of the South’ which consists of interventions that engage with ‘ecologies of knowledge’.

Visit to the Coteaux de la Citadelle

A few strides away from the Place Saint-Lambert, in the heart of Liege, stroll along the pathways and old walls, for a journey back in time... A walk full of surprises, courtyards, steps, terraces, gardens, paths, fields and orchards, which make the Coteaux de la Citadelle (“slopes of the Citadel”) a world of their own, right in the heart of the City centre. With their 60 monuments and 5 listed sites, the Coteaux de la Citadelle are a unique reminder of the city’s ancient landscapes. Enclosed since the 13th century by the city walls, the side of the hill has always been part of Liege. Spectacular sites are to be found, such as the famous Montagne de Bueren steps or the panoramas visible from the boulevards of the Citadel. Walking along the Coteaux de la Citadelle is a spellbinding experience: go backstage and see the town as you have never seen it before, behind the curtain of its facades. Cross a collection of courtyards, steps, and alleyways, to reach the light and tranquility of the terraces. See the silhouette of the city’s roofs up close… A privileged area for the visitor seeking green spaces and peaceful surroundings, at the very heart of the town!

When?
Tuesday, July 2nd from 18:30 onward
(Buses will depart from the Sart-Tilman campus towards the Coteaux de la Citadelle at the end of the last session; from there, participants will choose between a walk down back to the city centre -20/25 minutes- or a return by bus)

Gala dinner at the Colonster castle

The Colonster Castle, whose existence is documented from the 14th century onward, is located in the southern part of the Sart Tilman University Campus, on a rocky outcrop overlooking the valley of the Ourthe river at the entrance of Liege. The University of Liege bought the castle and surrounding land from Baron P. van Zuylen in 1963. In 1966 a fire destroyed much of the castle; subsequent restoration work and adaptation to contemporary use (reception rooms and meetings) were led by architects Henri Lacoste and Jean Opdenberg.

Today the castle houses the Georges Simenon Study Centre and Fund; the secretariat of the Open Air Museum of Sart-Tilman; a restaurant; and meeting rooms.

When?
Wednesday, July 3rd from 19:00 onward
(Buses will depart from Sart-Tilman towards the city centre at 11:00 pm, 12:00 am, 01:00 am)
Practical information

Venues and transportation

The exact addresses of the venues are:

- HEC building (Monday) - Rue Louvrex, 14 - Building N1, B-4000 Liege
- Sart-Tilman campus (Tuesday through Thursday) - Amphithéâtres de l’Europe, Boulevard du Rectorat, 13, Sart Tilman, B-4000 Liege

Bus transfers from the main hotels to the Sart-Tilman campus will be organized. However, both the HEC building and the Sart-Tilman campus can be accessed via public transportation and are served by taxis as well.

The HEC building, where the pre-conference Forum and the conference opening plenary session will be hosted on 1st July, is located in the city centre, within a 15-minute walk from the Guillemins train station.

The rest of the conference will take place on the Sart-Tilman campus, at the Amphitêatres de l’Europe. Bus lines 48 and 58 (“Grands Amphis” bus stop) will leave you near the conference entry.

Registration stands will be available on both venues.

For information on bus lines and schedules, please consult: www.infotec.be

There are several taxi stops in the city centre but none on the Sart-Tilman campus, so you will need to call a taxi company in advance. There are a few companies available and here are only two:

- LiegeTax, www.liege-tax.be
  +32 4 367 50 40
- Taxis Bleus de Liege, www.taxisbleusliege.be
  +32 4 361 11 61

WIFI access

Access to the university wireless network will be available to conference participants from Monday, July 1st through Friday, July 5th.

The username and password needed to access the WIFI will be facilitated at the registration desk when completing the registration.

Food and coffee breaks

All the lunches are included in the conference registration fee. All lunches will be held in the university restaurant, within walking distance of the conference main venue. There will be a voucher system to use in the restaurant that covers a basic meal.

Coffee breaks have been scheduled every morning and afternoon between parallel session slots.

Dinners on Monday and Wednesday are included as well in the registration fee.
Maps

On this map, the different key places have been encircled. The HEC building will host the pre-conference Forum as well as the conference opening plenary session on July 1st. The university logo indicates the direction towards the Sart-Tilman campus, where the rest of the sessions will take place from July 2nd to 4th.

Sart-Tilman campus map

This map includes the various buildings on the Sart-Tilman campus. The two main points of the conference, the Amphithéâtres de l’Europe and the restaurant, as well as the bus stops (lines 48 and 58), have been identified with colours.
HEC building map

There are three floor maps that locate the rooms for the pre-conference Forum as well as the auditorium where the opening plenary session will take place. The standing dinner of Monday, July 1st will take place in the Hall of the HEC building.
